Tuition Fee Reduction Pathway and Schedule – Eligible CASA Examination Completions

Students undertaking a Tuition Fee Reduction Pathway are enrolled in the same units of study and are subject to the same Census Date Schedule as students undertaking the standard Diploma pathway. All units of study must be completed, and competency must be achieved in accordance with the qualification requirements. Where eligible, only the applicable tuition fees are adjusted in accordance with this published Tuition Fee Reduction Schedule.

Where eligible CASA examinations have been successfully completed before enrolment, the volume of assessment activities for the relevant units of study may be reduced. The extent of any reduction depends on the recognised CASA examinations completed and is determined through a pre-enrolment assessment.

Pre-enrolment Assessment

Before enrolment, AIAC conducts a pre-enrolment assessment to determine whether an applicant is eligible for a Tuition Fee Reduction Pathway.

As part of this assessment, AIAC will:

- where applicable, and with the applicant's consent, request and review the applicant's flight training records;
- review the applicant's CASA Knowledge Deficiency Report (KDR), or other acceptable evidence of completed CASA examination(s);
- verify that the completed examination(s) meet AIAC's published eligibility criteria;
- determine whether any reduction in assessment activities applies;
- calculate the applicable tuition fee reduction in accordance with AIAC's published Tuition Fee Reduction Schedule;
- confirm the student's tuition fees and Census Date Schedule; and
- provide the student with a Letter of Offer and Written Agreement reflecting the applicable tuition fees before enrolment.

Outcome of the Assessment

Students who meet the published eligibility criteria will be assigned the applicable Tuition Fee Reduction Pathway before enrolment and provided with their Letter of Offer, applicable tuition fees and Census Date Schedule.

Tuition fee reductions are applied to the census period(s) associated with the relevant unit(s) of study in accordance with AIAC's published Tuition Fee Reduction Schedule.

The student's Letter of Offer and Census Date Schedule will specify the tuition fees payable for each census period after all applicable published tuition fee reductions have been applied.
